CIVIL SERVICE BILL

OCSEA
members
let legislators
hear about
it!

Thanks to the hundreds of letters and calls to legislators, OCSEA union activists were victorious in fighting off a civil service “deform” bill that would have brought back political paybacks and cronyism.

The union successfully convinced lawmakers to strike the damaging provisions from the civil service bill that was destined for passage later this month. Thanks to union activists’ monitoring and hard work, the bill moved out of committee and is on its way to passage without any language referring to furloughs or reduced work schedules.
