- Once you're connected, please be polite. Ask to talk with someone who can speak to the Senator's position on health care.

Here is a sample of what you can say:

Hello, my name is _____ and I'm calling health care reform is urgent and we need it now. I want Congress to side with working families, not insurance companies.

I support health care reform that includes a public health insurance option, requires employers to pay their fair share and rejects new taxes that would hurt working families.

A public health insurance option is the best way to lower costs. It will ensure real competition, keep private insurance companies honest and guarantee that everybody can get coverage.

We should not force working people to pay more for the insurance they already have in the form of increased taxes. Working families are struggling enough already.

It's time to rein in insurance companies so they can't deny coverage or raise costs whenever they choose. People and their doctors should make health care decisions – not insurance companies.
